The original preparation was developed over forty years ago and its performance has been recognised as outstanding by many users during this time, they frequently re-order each season and we have many testimonials to its efficacy.

Graybyrne's anti-midge oil is a cold mix of four naturally occurring harmless oils giving a pleasant aroma and protecting users from midge bites for up to six hours from application. The preparation is suitable for application to all exposed parts of the body, being careful to keep it away from the eyes. For very young children or anyone with a skin allergy the oil may be diluted, using a base oil eg. baby oil.

Those of us who love and enjoy the beauty and benefit of visiting or living in the midge infested parts of the country know only too well how our pleasures can be spoilt by the nuisance and ferocity of "The West Highland Midge", (Culicoides Impunctatus).

Over many years several ointments, creams and oils have been sold to ward off the evil midge, some with varying degrees of success, but few with such good and lasting effect.

We have a number of stockists around the country, but if you have difficulty in obtaining this product please use the tear off form below
